

The People Speak about Emeagwali

Some Famous, Some Little Known

"I don't know what got me to your site but the good thing is that I'm here.... You're such an icon in the scientific world" Hon. Sir Ralph Adjavie-Jarvis, Peterborough, Ontario, Canada

"It is always a privilege and an intellectual feast to visit the web site of Phillip Emeagwali." Adebayo-Begun. Oba , Ile-Ife, Nigeria

"Sir, I have always wanted to see you since I heard about you some two years ago. Sir, from that very day, I have been visiting your website virtually everyday to see my mentor in life." Usiosefe Ikponmwosa, Benin, Nigeria

"My friends, down here at the University of Nigeria, Nsukka, address me as "Emeagwali-isi miri." It's because I'm kind of bright and purposely chose to identify with my fellow Igbo brother (or Uncle). Einstein and Newton do not influence me as much as u do. Your case is so real to me." - Onyi

Hi, Great Brother and Scientist

I am an African-American male and I want to thank you for representing our best and what we can be. I know our African history from the beginning of time, our power and accomplishments in history and in the present is so much apart of me I see our superiority over all races. I have learned that facts are much more grounding than mere belief. We must connect our children to our past and more importantly we must unite worldwide without delay. I pray that our people wake up this Invisible War being waged against our people worldwide. We must face the ugly truth and be willing to risk life to set things straight, why? Because we owe it to our fore-fathers and our children. Our fathers worked hard to bring light to the world and to other races only to be demonized. We

	were a beautiful and proud people..then made to be what we are percieved today by a evil and jealous people out to conquer the world; foolishly and sadly. And our children deserves the history our ancestors has worked so hard to prove; our strength, intelligence, humility, power, will, and love for all in God's creation. Please join hands Black people worldwide for the coming of God and good on earth and let's bring back the legacy of our fathers!

Prof. Great Emeagwali is a super-genius and a Magnificent role model for African race. he breaks the ceiling. Am a South Sudanese national, but African nationality is my first identity. When I accidentally came across AFROCENTRIC website, I found many African scientists along with Dr. Emeagwali then I was overexcited to know that. At its worst, their names have not published for academic purposes that their achievements may motivate black students and scholars alike. I would urge all black students and scholars to make our scientists and great leaders known. We should write our essays, research papers and books that portray the beauty and rich culture and civilization of African ancestry. If we will not do it, no body will do it. Am proud to an African!!!!

I am a technology education major in my sophomore year of college. I am proud to be doing a presentation on him in front of about 30 white Americans in my class. They all haven't heard of him or his inventions and accomplishments with the internet and oil fields. I am honored to be presenting on this man. I have done lots of research on him and i feel he needs to be noted more often for his inventions! In my

I am a computer science student from the southern part of Nigeria, I am very happy for having a Nigerian as the mastermind of the computer/internet, I wish to really meet with Prof. Emeagwali so that I can get to know and learn some of his secrets that has made him rule the world so fast. I just need some lecture note from him through my e-mail address on different aspects of computer science, because I would like to be involved in the field of artificial intelligence. More regards to his elbows for making us Africans, especially Nigerians proud, may God continue to use you as you lead us the up-coming generation in the world of the fifth generation computers.

Dear Dr. Emeagwali,

I am an American of African descent originally from Natchez, Mississippi. I accidentally found your website while surfing. To say the least, your deeds and words are fantastic! Your contributions to the internet and supercomputers were completely unknown to me! This is unusual since I consider myself a student of African history. How could a person of your stature go unnoticed by the "educated"?

I presently reside in Albany, Georgia, a town of 100,000 200 miles southwest of Atlanta. Here, an organization formed in 1982 by Dr. Rex Ajayi, the African Heritage Association, has attempted to bring to the forefront issues involving the African and its diaspora. The organization consists of individuals of African descent, including Nigerians, (Igbo and Yoruba and others), Kenyans, Ghanaians, Sierra Leonians, Cameroonians, and African Americans, etc... Despite this contact, I was not introduced to your giant accomplishments!

During Black History Month, we usually meet with children to highlight African accomplishments and achievements. Next year, I will surely highlight you.

Thank you again for this website and its many articles. I've enjoyed reading the address for Black History Month and The Future of the Internet (very interesting and scary!)

May God continue to bless you and your family! May we all become ONE!

Devell R. Young, M.D.

It is great to know that a man of your status is from Nigeria, and an Igbo hero of no mean reputation. it'll be great if you can create a forum to enable you interact and share your outstanding experience with your native country, and also explore possible ways your adopted country can jumpstart socioeconomic development in Nigeria and particularly in Igboland where you spent your eventful childhood. I also want to commend your pretty wife and promising children who have been of great source of inspiration to your and your career. 🙏

Well,
a lot has been said about you, Engr. Philip, but i just want add to it that, your achievements and all what led to your achievements must be indept lessons for everyone that no matter where you come from or predicaments in life, the result of your efforts and struggle is the most important in life.

May God help "our black Nations" to bring out more of Philips and his likes to resultantly make Africa a better continent.

- You have really made Me proud and indeed Nigeria at large.

Each time i go browsing, i won't end without seeing your site.
 I have made you my mentor even without you knowing it. One of the days am looking up to is the day i'll meet you. Something tells me your best is yet to come out. Keep it up the great one. The world really needs more of your type.
 Bravo!!

 Hi sir,
 It's really exciting giong through your site. What a wonderful genius the holy land of Biafra has. You have made us proud. The world is yet to see your exploits and may God grant you long life in Jesus name. Amen.
 You are a Great Biafran indeed ,and we the Biafrans appreciates your effects. Sure BIAFRA LIVES. If not on earth, then in the hearths of men like we.
 The battles our farthers fought and died for, we shall live to see it come through. This time in a bloodless battle of justice. Thanks and may God be with you.
